

Caring for our World – RE Knowledge Organiser Year 1 Summer 2

VOCABULARY
Care	to look after and give love to something or someone.		Some questions we will ask:                      Who cares?                      Why do we care?                      What does it 'look' like when we care for others?                      What do people of faith, and of no faith, believe about looking after our world?
Creation	Something being made that was not there before.
Unique	One of a kind. Made different to others. Not the same.
Valued	Worthy of love and belonging. Precious. Important.
Neighbour	Someone who you may meet in your day-to-day life. Another person. Someone who lives in the same area as you.	Many faiths have a description of how the Earth, the universe and everything in it, were created. Christians, Muslims, and Jews share the creation story, told at the very beginning of their holy texts in a book called Genesis, which means 'origin' or 'source' – where things first began. Not everyone has a faith, and we will explore how people of many walks of life show care to others and to the natural world.	Sikhism: Langar is the kitchen in a Gurdwara – the Sikh place of worship. After the weekly act of worship, Sikh communities serve a free, shared meal. This is provided to all, regardless of race, faith, or economic status, and does not require attendance at the act of worship. It is simply an act of kindness.
Waiter	Someone who serves another. Someone trained and skilled in looking out for what another person needs.
Genesis	Origin, source. Where something comes from.
			One of the 5 pillars of Islam is Zakah – an obligation to give money to the poor. It is generally voluntary and a set percentage of someone's wealth.
